A brisk beautiful fall morning started sale day with the arrival of many excited participants. The historic barn in which the auction was held was packed. Online buyers were many and very active. In all, the sale was a huge success for both the seller and the buyers. The crowd was treated to a pre-sale social plus an interactive presentation by the host of Vermont Wagyu. Sale day began with very insightful talks by industry experts which was then followed by an amazing spread for lunch. The sale kicked off with excitement which set the tone for the entire auction. The crowd was very active and the long lists of internet buyers added much competition.
